Immanuel Lutheran School Gawler

Garden Program

An eat well be active - Primary Schools project school

Immanuel Lutheran School have developed a garden. It is used for part of the week to build the self esteem of disengaged students. Classes develop units of work around working in the garden and harvesting the produce. A market is often held to see excess produce to the community and students and parent volunteers are involved in organising this.

Look at this video to see the co-ordinator of the garden, a community member and students talking about their garden.
